School Eligibility Requirements
In the U.S. and U.S. Territories, a school is eligible to receive computer donations through the DHL Helping Learners program if it is classified as a Title I school. For schools located outside of the U.S. and its territories, please provide appropriate supporting documentation that educational services are provided to pre-kindergarten through grade 12 students from socially disadvantaged backgrounds.

Educational Non-Profit Eligibility Requirements
An educational non-profit is eligible if it is classified as tax-exempt under section 501(c) of the United States tax code and serves pre-kindergarten through grade 12 students for the purpose of education. For educational non-profits located outside of the U.S. and its territories, please provide appropriate supporting documentation.

As a longstanding partner of the United Nations (UN), DHL strongly supports the UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and we have aligned our corporate strategy to these goals in order to help transform our world.

Our program mission, powered by DHL Helping Learners, is to provide the necessary computer equipment for students to achieve a quality education. We have a team of employees who refurbish decommissioned DHL computers and provide this equipment at no cost to schools with low-income students and educationally focused non-profit organizations. By doing so, DHL can help students achieve educational success for a better today, tomorrow and future for our world.

Students need our computers so we do not throw them away. Since 2017, we have refurbished and donated over 1,000 computers to students across the globe. Instead of being tossed in a landfill, these computers now have a direct educational impact and a second life.
